11. Which of the following options best indicates your current or past use or interest in Crown land in New South Wales?: I am involved with a community or volunteer group that uses or maintains Crown land facilities, I use Crown land for recreation, I use Crown land when travelling away from home or visiting other places, I care about Crown land management as a resident of New South Wales, Other
Other: I have for many years been an executive officer in Ballina Environment Society. (BES) BES has endeavoured to protect and extend the ecological assets of Ballina Shire via submissions, legal efforts and community information about better strategic planning and environmental protections. BES recognises that the greatest need at this time is for climate change to be the foundation of all Crown Land planning and use.

12. What use/s of Crown land do you value?: Open or green space, Community use, Aboriginal land rights, Biodiversity, Jobs and economic growth, Renewable energy, Other
Other: Aboriginal voice on every change of status whether by ownership or by change of function Identification and absolute protection of valued ecological communities Integration of all aspects of land and water management

|--|---|
| Expand green space, sustainable quality of life and climate change resilience: | Very important |
| Strengthen and support evolving community connections: | Important |
| Work with Aboriginal communities to realise the potential of their land rights: | Very important |
| Do you believe that any changes should be made to these priorities, or are there any new priorities, you would like to suggest?: | Absolute priority needs to be given to protection of ecological communities already identified as having high environmental value, as important as other priorities maybe. Absolute transparency and community consultation must be given priority with no shortcuts under the misnomer of red or green tape. Low risk is NOT able to be assessed in any other way. |

Climate resilience using the best of scientific evidence and local knowledge | should be used to evaluate every strategy. Green spaces is too vague as is Crown Land as a Resource.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these enabling initiatives, or are there any other enabling initiatives you would like to suggest?:

The ones that i have listed as not important are things that I see as dangerous to environmental concerns, individual assessment by local Councils and environmental change. Why would simplifying licensing for domestic waterfront structures be a good idea with so much variation in coastal erosion, public access and ever-changing knowledge of impending impacts of climate change? Red tape, standardised procedures etc are dangerous practices that assume common values that Crown Land is a resource to make money; that making things easier is making things better?

Other feedback

19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.:

Strategic plan is a good idea. However, most of the detail is alarming for its assumptions of what is of most value in today's society with our climate already changing - fires, floods, sea level rising, overcrowding, a world pandemic and our knowledge of the vital significance of protecting ecological communities. some reordering of priorities and would greatly improve the Plan and more clarity around its embedded values is required.

Development simply for commercial, industrial or energy purposes alone should NOT be allowed on Crown Land.

While it is pleasing to see Aboriginal land justice listed as one of four draft strategic priorities, it is still concerning that to date, only about a quarter of all claims lodged since 1983 have been determined, with presently approximately 38,000 unresolved Aboriginal Land Claims over Crown land in NSW. TBLALC currently has a number of unresolved claims over Crown land. This represents undelivered cultural, social and economic outcomes for our community. TBLALC also has a strong interest in Crown land management, given that Crown land in our region has significant Aboriginal culture and heritage values and retains cultural and spiritual significance. TBLALC has been a strong advocate for greater inclusion of Aboriginal interests and Aboriginal Land Rights in Crown land management and reform processes.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these enabling initiatives, or are there any other enabling initiatives you would like to suggest?:

Some of the outcomes were too vague to make a considered evaluation of their importance and in some cases they contradicted each other. For example, it is not clear what is meant by 'Support innovative and sustainable regional industries' on Crown lands. 'Facilitate investment on Crown land' is also too broad and not specific enough to make a informed assessment. It is important to note however, that Aboriginal community consultation is essential in informing effective and inclusive decision making and TBLALC has long advocated for best practice consultation practices with Aboriginal communities when dealing with Crown land. TBLALC recommends effective, best practice consultation with LALCs is made mandatory when considering restricting access to, or setting aside a reserve, particularly where the reserve holds cultural or spiritual significance for Aboriginal people. TBLALC also asks that it be invited to provide a representative to participate in any community advisory groups that are formed in relation to Crown land in our region. Given the significant interests of Aboriginal Land Councils in Crown land, TBLALC recommends greater transparency around the types of agencies that Crown land may be vested in and the purposes of land use following vesting in such agencies. TBLALC would be concerned if the purpose of the agency or corporation vested with Crown land could change, or that a body may have multiple purposes, and that this may impact the use of vested Crown land. The mechanisms available for transferring management or ownership of Crown land to bodies are already far reaching and TBLALC would not want to see any further widening of these powers given the resulting reduction of access to claimable Crown land.

Other feedback

19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.:

TBLALC is established under the Aboriginal Land Rights Act 1983 (NSW) (ALRA) which was enacted in acknowledgment of, and in an attempt to remedy, the ongoing effects of the dispossession of Aboriginal peoples in NSW. As part of the network of Aboriginal Land Councils TBLALC acquires and manages land as an economic base for social and cultural outcomes for our Aboriginal community. The claiming of Crown land and the ability to negotiate Aboriginal Land Agreements are core functions of our organisation, recognising prior ownership and our rights to obtain land. TBLALC is concerned that to date, only about a quarter of all claims lodged since 1983 have been determined, and presently there are approximately 38,000 unresolved Aboriginal Land Claims over Crown land. Any strategic plan for Crown Land must acknowledge that land justice outcomes for Aboriginal peoples in NSW remains unrealised.

There should be no sale, or lease of Crown Land where there are land claims by Aboriginal people. Environmental outcomes, biodiversity protection and conservation, river health and environmental flows must be the priority of this strategy. That Crown Land is owned by the people, that it is a public asset must be the priority, and that it must not be sold. There must be no privatisation of Crown Land. Other feedback

Crown Land is owned by the people, it is public asset it is OUR LAND, and we are custodians of the land. It not for the government of the day to divest Crown Land at will, therefore serious concerns have been expressed that public consultation has not been more widely communicated nor extensive. There are fundamental principles of custodianship, Aboriginal lands, public goods and public asset, intergenerational equity, biodiversity, ecological values and services and species conservation which should dominate and strengthen the State Strategic Plan for Crown Land. Instead these principles are largely de-emphasised and discarded with focus on terms such as 'stagnant land' desire to 'unlock potential' enable jobs, economic development, economic growth and other similar terms, without reference to scientific evidence. Claims for the need to reduce 'red tape' to enable development demonstrate scant regard for ecological values, precautionary principle, intergenerational equity and environmental responsibility. I am deeply concerned that removal of 'red tape' may lead to exploitation of a significant and important public asset. There are serious omissions in the Draft Strategic Plan for Crown Land, notably it does not recognise and deal with Aboriginal ownership, their custodianship, nor does it refer to the knowledge of First Nation peoples. The Draft Strategic Plan for Crown Land does not promise any money to protect built heritage, parklands or open space, for example, Bondi Pavilion, Kind Edward Park, Newcastle. There are risks to regions if economics is the sole focus, and risks for the city if the purpose for Crown Land is not for publically accessible public recreation. A common pattern emerges in many cases: a well connected sports club or the like extracts a lease or licence from a local council (for example, Talus Crown Land reserve, where the current and preceding Willoughby Mayor, and current NSW Premier were/are the Patrons of the relevant tennis club) over a Crown reserve at paltry rent, then proceeds to sublease or install a "manager" over the Crown reserve. That sublessee or "manager" then carries on its own private business on the reserve (that invariably involves restricting entry to the general public) and pays the lessee a rent or management fee that exceeds many times over the rent payable to the public under the "head lease". It is not possible to identify any public benefit in such arrangements. Local councils must not bank trustee income into their own accounts to be used for the councils' own purposes. The government should not countenance such breaches of this duty of a trustee: to keep the trust fund separate and apply it only to permissible purposes. This is also, incidentally, in clear violation of the requirements of the Local Government Act (Owens to Ms M Crawford, NSW Auditor General 15 April 2016) and Regulation for local councils to establish and maintain a separate bank account for moneys received by it in trust (see sections 408, 409 and 411 of the Local Government Act and clause 204 of the Local Government Regulation).

Other: Environmental value: many areas of Crown land such as river bank areas and travelling stock routes also contain the last best refuges of threatened vegetation communities and endangered plants. They can be important for hollow bearing trees, and shelter for many animals such as reptiles, insects etc.

| Do you believe that any changes should be made to these outcomes or would you like to suggest any other outcomes the department should address in the State Strategic Plan?: | I don't think that "affordable housing" should be built on Crown Land, or Crown Land releases be made to allow residential developments. It is appropriate that Aboriginal people have input to the management and use of Crown Land, but not to have Crown Land made over to Aboriginal groups for their exclusive usage. Do you believe that any changes should be made to these enabling initiatives, or are there any other enabling initiatives you would like to suggest?: Adequate funding must be available for management of Crown Lands. Need to recognise that Crown Lands have ongoing maintenance needs such as weed control, and property fund for this. Where Councils have been made responsible for Crown Land ensure funding for specific staff to manage such land - Council management must not be just cost shifting Leases should be for a limited time, and reviewed in light of management and appropriateness of usage

19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.: Highest value must be placed on the potential of Crown Lands for biodiversity conservation, habitat corridors and as open space. Value also potential uses for future resilience needs such as community gardens. Leases need to be relatively short and monitoring and oversight of private usage be ongoing. Where management has been passed to local Councils, full funding and staff training should be provided.

Given the abundance of Crown Land around foreshores and areas of high visitation, clearer direction around how potential commercial operators can operate is crucial to growing regional visitor economies. We have been in a situation two previously where Crown Lands were not able to provide an application process or directions and excellent community activations were lost to the area.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these enabling initiatives, or are there any other enabling initiatives you would like to suggest?: A standard and understood approach to crown land management would make it fairer for everyone to benefit. The level of red tape is prohibitive to anyone wanting to invest which means we end up with minimal activations or ways to spend money in local economies.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these outcomes or would you like to suggest any other outcomes the department should address in the State Strategic Plan?: The outcomes are supported but could be improved, including: 1. The outcome 'prioritisation ... for green and open space in urban areas' under Sustainability and Resilience, should have a corresponding and equally important outcome under Community Connections ie 'prioritisation ... for active recreation and community uses.' 2. We agree that 'Contributing to the ongoing recognition of native title rights is very important. The actions under this heading are supported and could be strengthened by addition of an action to develop a framework for addressing compensation that may arise from actions that infringe native title rights (which is an issue identified in Figure 4 at pg 17 of the Plan but it is not addressed in the actions). 3. For the action 'Conduct a portfolio review [of tourism sites] in collaboration with the tourism industry' on pg 34 - it is critical that the particular local councils in the areas that sites are identified in (not just local government industry as a whole) be added as key stakeholders and be involved in that review process. 4. Council supports the action 'to support peak body community organisations' but notes that any decisions made at a 'State level' must retain flexibility to be modified, as needed, to adequately local circumstances and local community needs. 5. Council supports making Aboriginal land claim determinations a priority and simply asks that individual councils continue to be consulted on essential use and public purpose needs during the assessments.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these enabling initiatives, or are there any other enabling initiatives you would like to suggest?:

1. If 'Adequate resourcing and funding' is not included as a key priority (as recommended above), then it has to be included as a critical enabling initiative, if the priorities and outcomes of the Plan are to be achieved. 2. Reducing red-tap for government entities managing Crown Land, which are mostly councils, has to be a short-term priority (not medium-term). One of the key drivers of the review of the CLM Act was said to be the intention to cut-red tape for Council Crown Land Mangers and this has to remain a priority. There are many simple 'quick wins' that could be implemented immediately, such as reviewing delegations to Council Crown Land Managers for granting owners' consent to lodgement of development applications. These 'quick wins' should not have to wait to the medium-term. 3. Assisting local government to build understanding of native title matters and obligations under the CLM Act is very important and we support the action to develop a base of information resources. However, in addition there needs to be an action that ensures that a State Government framework is developed to guide assessing, managing and accounting for impacts on native title by activities on Crown Lands, and this should not be left to each individual local council to do.

19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.:

State Strategic Plan – A Vision for Crown Land 2020 Submission by the Sydney Fly Rodders’ Club The Sydney Fly Rodders’ Club is a large incorporated fishing club based in Sydney with 160 members from the Metropolitan Area, country NSW, interstate and overseas. Our club is a fly-fishing club whose members regularly travel to and fish waterways within NSW. Many of these fishable waters are accessed through Crown Land and Travelling Stock Routes (TSR). We respect the natural environment of fish, fauna and flora and deeply appreciate the “just being there” experience when visiting these areas and indeed all waters we fish. As a club we are prepared to assist with Environmental Projects, including habitat restoration, stocking programs and monitoring the health of the fishing location. The Committee and a group of members of the Sydney Fly Rodders’ Club have read the State Strategic Plan – A Vision for Crown Land 2020. We submit the comments outlined below for consideration by the NSW Government. In reference to the Vision on page 30 of the strategy, “Sustain the places where people come together”, we submit that Recreational Fishers are not included as stakeholders in the strategy and should be. Fishing needs a long-term plan and commitment to restore the fishing environment to where it used to be. So much habitat has been removed from rivers particularly much needed structure, protection and shade for the fish to survive and breed. We need to maintain a sustainable balance between nature, the environment, farming and people’s needs Fishing provides a healthy activity for the whole family, providing major benefits for mental health and recovery programs We submit that all current fishing locations and in particular “Access Points” for recreational fishing should be retained. This includes all Crown Lands, TSR’s which lead to any water way. These should be open to and used by the public to protect for future generations. The Crown Lands Management Act deals with the sale and long-term lease of Crown Land including Crown Reserves and TSR’s. A large proportion of these land holders are pastoral and farming companies. The land which is going to be the subject of sale and long-term lease is non-ratable and otherwise tax-free. That will remain the case with long-term leases of Crown land to the exclusive benefit of the large pastoral and farming companies. There will be no public benefit from such arrangements, particularly in the case of long-term leases. Prior to the disposal of any Crown Reserves or TSR's we and the other stakeholders need a consultation process that enables and supports our ability to make contributions. In our case that would mean any proposals to sell crown land would make identification of that land easy and the proposal would highlight whether the sale affected access to water. If fishers are not stakeholders, then there is no possibility of proper consultation or scrutiny as to whether a viable fishing asset is being disposed of or not. If long-term leases are to be given to landholders, there must be a provision for access to waterways for recreational fishers, such as stiles, turnstiles, sprung gates which is the practice in New Zealand when entering lands to access rivers and lakes. A substantial proportion of recreational fishers belong to an older age group and are not physically capable of traversing long distances over different types of terrain. There are other disabled people of all ages who engage in recreational fishing who rely upon the Crown Reserves and TSR's to provide access to fish water. Examples of current access sites, as supplied by the Central Acclimatisation Society, Wallerawang Branch. Public reserve on the corner of Jenolan Road and Great Western Highway, near Hartley. Pipers Flat Dam between Lithgow and Portland. Duckmaloi River Campground off the Sydney road Oberon. Portland access to Williwa Creek via Wattlemount Road. Fish River access via Hazelgrove Road low level pass when travelling from Tarana to Oberon. Evans Crown Nature Reserve, Honeysuckle Road Tarana - Fish River access. In reference to the vision on page 34 of the strategy. "Expand Regional Tourism". Recreational fishers including our club members travel to various fishing locations throughout the state to explore trout waters in the central west, southern, Snowy Mountains and New England areas. There are many fishers who also target native fish, such as Bass, Yellow Belly and Murray Cod in regional areas along coastal areas and inland. When visiting towns and localities within these regions we contribute to the local businesses by: Hiring local guides to fish with and buy tackle, flies etc from shops in the regions Stock up in town and buy our groceries and produce from local stores. Attend local hotels, cafes and restaurants for meals Sydney Fly Rodders' Club organise many events where we book accommodation in motels, caravan parks, hotels and camping grounds. Events at Wallerawang, Jindabyne, Smiths Lake, Tumut are regulars on our calendar. Sydney Fly Rodders' Club Committee president@sydneyflyrodders.com.au mark.bransgrove@bigpond.com

The emphasis on jobs creation and commercialisation of Crown lands is misguided. Our country's great assets are its biodiversity, scenic vistas and unique wildlife. These important attributes, which contribute so much to the NSW's economy, do not seem to be given enough recognition in the plan. The federal government's 2016 State of the Environment Report importantly noted how cities are often located in areas of high biodiversity value and are home to a significant number of threatened species. It cites research which shows "that cities contain substantially more threatened species per unit area than non-urban areas." The South West Sydney koalas are one example of a threatened species that is to date still thriving in greater metropolitan Sydney. But its habitat is now at risk because massive new housing developments have been earmarked for both the Greater Macarthur and Wilton areas. As much Crown land as possible needs to be set aside to conserve almost 9,000 hectares, the minimum amount of land required to protect the koalas' primary, secondary and tertiary corridors according to the DPIE's own estimates. Even if this happens, the planned growth for the area will still have a significant impact on the koalas. If this critical population is lost, it will have a devastating effect on the future of the koalas in NSW. The South West Sydney koalas are the last significant chlamydia-free population in the state. In recent years, too much biodiversity in NSW has been lost to land-clearing, mining and housing developments. Our state now has one of the worst environmental records in the country. Recent research indicates that the state's koalas are on track to be functionally extinct before 2030. Residents and tourists should not have to go to Tasmania to experience the best of what Australia has to offer in terms of ecotourism. NSW could become the ecotourist capital of the country if we change course and decide to invest in the protection of the biodiversity of our Crown lands.

Ok I will thanks.... it is only "Crown" land if the Crown actually bought it off the indigenous people of Australia the Aborigines. So since the Crown never asked for permission to settle in Australia or paid for lands claimed by the Crown, then there is no such thing as Crown land in reality, in reality it all belongs to the recognised indigenous Aborigines and the words Crown Land only exist on paper, a lie projected as the truth because its printed on paper. Meanwhile we ignore and destroy indigenous ancient rock art and sites so there is less and less material proof the indigenous peoples own Australia. We live in a lie, its easier for us that way, cos deep down we understand about the stolen generation along with their stolen land.

Other feedback

19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.: It is outrageous to consider forest clearing for biofuels "clean energy " or "sustainable " in any way. There is not nearly enough forest to meet a meaningful proportion of energy needs. The forest has much greater environmental value- and economic value if properly evaluated (taking into account its role in the water cycle, as a greenhouse gas sink, tourism opportunity generator, and biodiverse habitat). The state should be promoting reforestation of all crown lands that ever had forest cover, given the climate emergency.1

| 19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.: | This is not about making a submission , this is a survey , typical the way crown lands treat the general public. Have fought for years to have crown land clean up land along Ruttleys road Mannering park , constant illegal dumping. The local Tidy Towns has cleaned up numerous areas along this waterfront at their own expense and get no support from crown lands . I've been asking for years to have RID signs permanently put it place but nothing is done. Why did crowns land Delta electricity and old Wyong council colude with each other to change the zoning of crown land on the eastern side of Mannering park to power station use without informing the public. Thankfully pressure from the community of Mannering park to state government had this zoning reversed back to crown land community use. |

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these outcomes or would you like to suggest any other outcomes the department should address in the State Strategic Plan?: Aboriginality does not guarantee wisdom or breadth of vision. Do you believe that any changes should be made to these enabling initiatives, or are there any other enabling initiatives you would like to suggest?: These options are ingenuous. I do not believe that reducing red tape is unimportant I believe that it is a very bad idea. Red tape is there to protect things of value. Also domestic waterfront structures are not necessarily in the public interest and I oppose "simplifying" their licensing.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these priorities, or are there any new priorities, you would like to suggest?: There needs to be higher priority to use of Crown land for restoration of habitat for native fauna and flora and currently in alarming decline in Australia with more than 1,700 species and ecological communities known to (https://www.environment.gov.au/biodiversity/threatened/species#:~:text=Australia's%20biodiversity%20is made to these The unprecedented bushfires last summer further exacerbated this terrible situation with over a billion animals 53549936) and 11;46 hectares burnt – an area the size of England. According to World Wildlife Fund research included: 2.46 billion reptiles, 180 million birds, 143 million mammals, 51 million frogs. This does not even be new priorities, The Crown Lands Act 1989 enshrined environmental protection and a requirement that the natural resources needs to be urgently reinstated and extended.

The document "State Strategic Plan – A Vision for Crown Land" mentions use of Crown land for offsetting and likely to be problematic. The Offsets Policy has failed to conserve biodiversity in Australia. In NSW destruction offset sometimes simply by financial payment, or by restoration programs for another species entirely. This is the target development, where the offset occurs, the fauna or flora involved still die. Even quite small populations are important both with regard sheer numbers, as well as genetic diversity and corridor establishment. There also biomass burning to create electricity. Growing wood for fuel on Crown land definitely must not be undertaken carbon than burning coal. This is because much more wood than coal has to be burned to create equivalent h for Crown land.: (Laganière, J., Paré, D., Thiffault, E. & Bernier, P. Y. Range and uncertainties in estimating delays in greenhouse Canadian forests. GCB Bioenergy 9, 358–369, 2017). Further, the idea that wood is renewable takes little account with which we need trees for carbon capture and native habitat.

We have seen land change manager and immediately mtb trails are closed, people are upset and then new trails get make elsewhere.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these outcomes or would you like to suggest any other outcomes the department should address in the State Strategic Plan?: As a mountain biker in our local area we have trails through multiple land managers and when LALC are given land locally we are shut out of the land without discussion when some trails have been there for 20 years with not discuss or negotiation. I would support Aboriginal lands transfer if there are opportunity to still use trails on the land.

19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.:

I would ask Crown Lands to look developing a state wide plan for mountain biking on Crown Lands and especially when cross tenure is involved. Mountain biking is recreation more than a sport and this has been proven extreme popular during COVID with numbers in some areas jumping from 4000/ mth pre covid to over 10000/ month during COVID. These numbers will never recede too pre covid numbers once this is over. We need a State plan that between Crown Lands and NPWS can lead the way to help other bodies to manage mtb in their area. The issue especially in Sydney is the lack of spare land spaces for recreational use in the bush Crown Lands have great parcels of land that link to lands managed by other departments. MTBers need to be access these on formalise trail networks. Other states are over 10 years in front of NSW and would be great to finally formalise trails for a recreation that brings friends, family and like minded people together to enjoy the bush in a different way. For some its their idea of going to church. TrailCare is help to help land managers and riders alike so please contact us and we can help Crown Lands with a strategy.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these priorities, or are there any new priorities, you would like to suggest?:

The first priority should be to ensure that crown land is managed to return to ecological health and improved biodiversity. Without a healthy environment all economic goals, in the end, will falter. Hence I have ticked neutral for jobs growth - it depends what sort of jobs and commercial activity. The wording of the document does not seem to put much detail into the concept 'sustainable'.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these outcomes or would you like to suggest any other outcomes the department should address in the State Strategic Plan?:

These are different outcomes to those put in Figure 8 - Outcomes and timelines. What will you actually be following? Innovative and sustainable regional industries sounds great - but the devil is in the detail. Given most of the crown land is out west - where weeds, and soil and vegetation loss is extreme one innovative approach would be to remove all cloven hoofed beasts from crown land. Some could be farmed with other animals, some could be converted to national park and local people paid to return the land to rich biodiversity. The land might also be farmed for indigenous plant foods. Revenue from mining should be used to buy back the leases. In addition the land might be used for carbon sequestration.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these enabling initiatives, or are there any other enabling initiatives you would like to suggest?:

You have missed one concept in your plan - accountability. What is needed is not only transparency, and access to information but also accountability for the way the land is managed. If graziers are continued to be allowed to use the land then they must be obliged to keep that public land in a condition that is meaningful and useful for future generations. And they must be held accountable to that. Currently the NSW environmental laws and processes do not show a willingness to sufficiently protect the environment. Water frontage should be accessible by all and so I am not in favour of solidifying rights to private waterfront structures. In marine areas there is currently an abundance of boats and water craft - any changes to facilitate MORE of these should NOT be done without consulting fisheries and marine parks. Rather, you might like to consider conditions which will limit water craft in Australian waterways.

19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.:

The quadruple bottom line sounds good - but you need to have good measures, and regular monitoring for this approach to have any meaning. You also need mechanisms to address areas if the bottom lines aren't coming to fruition. Your vision needs a statement that the strategic plan means that the health of the environment will not be compromised by any activity or decision in this plan. Re housing - include an obligation that the housing is affordable and quality in the sense of energy efficient and comfortable - using passive design principles. Make sure compliance has teeth - that is, the department can act swiftly to ensure, penalize, motivate users and managers of the land to ensure the 4 bottom lines are being worked towards - without compromising one for another. I am concerned about developments on the coast. Currently local governments have a lot of control over what occurs and is developed - often without sufficient care, or ability to enforce adequate coastal protection. Make leases public knowledge - who is managing what land, and how effectively they're managing the land. It might be their private business but it is OUR land. What help / resources will miners and farmers receive to help them manage our land in a more appropriate way? Green spaces are very important for numerous reasons - please don't just focus on Sydney but also give regional councils motive to stop any harm to green spaces and build better green spaces. Climate change is obviously very important - try to find solutions which won't exacerbate environmental harm.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these enabling initiatives, or are there any other enabling initiatives you would like to suggest?: There needs to be recognition that adequate staffing resources are provided to execute the initiatives outlined in the Plan as well as ongoing programs. There has been continual downsizing since 1992, resulting in huge backlogs of work, stress for staff and angst of applicants. There is also a critical need for funding to carry out on-ground management of Crown lands eg control of noxious weeds

19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.:

I strongly support the retention of leasehold tenure in the Western Division with clarity of lease purpose and adequate compliance level: this requires additional Rangeland Management Inspectors, to allow cyclical inspection of leases, detection of illegal activities and timely attention to land condition (including groundcover monitoring), especially in drought. Rental should be based on land value, to better reflect the range of land types, location and potential land uses, and provide an optimum return to the Crown and efficiency of assessment. Resolution of native title and Aboriginal land claims is vital to the efficient use of and dealing in Crown lands. Clarification is also needed of the rights and obligations of 3rd parties with licences under other statutes, eg miners, commercial fishers, fossickers, forestry, aborigines. Crown Reserve Trusts need better training and information and funding to best carry out their duties.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these priorities, or are there any new priorities, you would like to suggest?:

Throughout the draft plan, it is evident that the Aboriginal element has been solely focused on the priority of Land rights. While this priority is the most important to Aboriginal people and addressing the long term inadequacy of legal instruments achieving their intended results over decades, it should not disclude a focus on embedding Aboriginal opportunities and aspirations in other priority areas - This feels like once more the NSW Government is happy for Aboriginal people to be placed on the fringes. Aboriginal people and organizations drawing on their innate custodial leadership have much to offer in the other priority areas and should be supported to play a significant role.

- Do you believe that any changes should be made to these outcomes or would you like to suggest any other outcomes the department should address in the State Strategic Plan?: The development and delivery should focus on rectifying the past decade's history of the failure to meet objectives and aspirations of NSW Aboriginal Land rights and more recently Land negotiation process. This also fails to recognise Aboriginal entitlements to their own water rights The focus of the plan and subsequent departmental resources MUST prioritise first and foremost this area above all others. - This needs courage and conviction otherwise the ongoing experience of NSW Aboriginal people will continue. This is evident within your draft plan on Page 23 highlighting the number of claims resolved "13,356 Aboriginal Land Claims have been reviewed and resolved" without acknowledging that the majority of these resolutions had a negative outcome to Aboriginal aspirations in addition to the unacceptable number of the backlog of Claims since 1982. Consideration should also be required of asking what would the other outcomes look like with Aboriginal custodial leadership embedded within them. This approach would support and lay significant pathways in addressing the priority outcomes that the NSW has just signed in the National partnership agreement for Closing the Gap. Closing the Gap is not an opt in / opt out for DPIE and NSW Crown lands and should be explored within this strategic plan.

This process is a unique opportunity to demonstrate recognition of the valued contribution Aboriginal people make to who we are, where we come from, what we value, and where we are going. Let's get it right by being inclusive and respectful of matters that you might not fully understand.

this State Strategic Plan for Crown land is a good idea, it is well written and very general, however it needs to include management plan on how it intends to manage crown lands and roads which lead to public water ways, particularly inland waterways. There is plenty of mention about the coastal area waterways however.

Snug Cove in Eden Port is being redeveloped by Crown Lands with the Australian Government, the Bega Valley Shire Council and other State departments. The $44m wharf extension for cruise ships is being repurposed to also accommodate other vessels such as fishing boats. Tenders for a 360m fixed panel wave attenuator will soon be called to provide a safe harbour for small vessels and a suitable wave climate for a marina. The central precinct area is to be redeveloped to encourage tourists and benefit port users A Welcome Centre for tourists is being constructed with completion due in late 2020.

Addison Road Community Organisation may be unique in the Crown land estate, as it is managed by a corporation established for the purpose of community centre and recreation. ARCO generates revenue from activities on site to try to cover the costs of delivering community benefit and managing a significant State asset: 9-acre site with 169 trees, 30-plus buildings (including seven dating to WWI), local heritage listing, 80 public toilets, community gardens, recycling and roads. Since its establishment in 1976, the managers of the Centre have facilitated millions of dollars' investment and countless hours of volunteer labour in repair and maintenance of this former Commonwealth military land that was endowed to the community without any allocation of funding for ongoing care of the site and its ageing infrastructure and buildings. As the current custodians, ARCO would welcome improved communication, support and funding from the NSW government so that we may continue to provide considerable community and public benefit as compliance, insurance and maintenance costs grow. We believe ARCO has already made significant progress towards achieving three of the four Priorities identified in the draft Strategic Plan with only minimal government support over 43 years. We welcome the opportunity to work more closely with the NSW government and with enhanced support to continue meeting these vital priorities into the future, especially as recent health and social emergencies have demonstrated the important role community centres like Addison Road can play.

There should be no further dispersal of Crown land other than as transfer to First Nations People. This is community land and should remain so. There should be no sale of Crown land under lease. A full audit of environmental values should be undertaken prior to any land use change of Crown land. Crown land of high conservation value must be protected. Protection of environmental and biodiversity values must be a priority and should dictate appropriate use. This is vital in the urban environment as well as regional. Where appropriate, innovative renewable energy projects should be progressed to empower local communities on Crown land. TSR's should receive particular mention and be retained.

Crown land constitutes an extremely important asset for communities. It is therefore important that the priority be, wherever possible, Crown land be accessible & usable to the public & community groups. In saying that, the community must do their part in looking after Crown land, including Landcare. There are a small number of Crown land sites where commercial activities, carefully managed, could benefit communities eg Kiama harbour.

19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.:

I believe that whilst it is important that our Crown Land needs to be protected and managed in an efficient and sustainable way, it is extremely important that Government recognise that Crown Land is OUR LAND...IE... The Peoples Land and as such our combined Heritage, be it First Nations or white Settlement be recognised in parallell. All sorts of groups of people have a history of use of these lands. Not the least of these is the pursuit of Gold and precious gems. My own family and the families of thousands of my fellow citizen's history in this wide brown land are steeped deeply in the pursuit of gold and precious minerals..ie sapphire etc.Despite the representations of Napfa(NEW SOUTH WALES and ACT PROSPECTORS and FOSSICKERS ASSOCIATION.) of which I am a member,the relative gov depts have resisted us at almost every turn.I realise, and feel like I am just a very small voice in a very big wilderness... but nevertheless I appeal to those who have it in their power to look favorably on our constant appeals for a fair go and embrace us within the group of users of Crown Land where continuity of our traditional ways may go on into the future.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these priorities, or are there any new priorities, you would like to suggest?: Our Reserve size cannot increase. It has commercial activities but they should not increase at the cost of [providing amenity to the public. We have a primitive camping ground with a limit on how much business we can do. This should be increased but not open-ended. It is a Showground and the annual show is very important to the regional community. The local community has a high level of usage of the Reserve.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these outcomes or would you like to suggest any other outcomes the department should address in the State Strategic Plan?: This philosophical 'do-gooder' approach will destroy the utility for the community. Practical actions like injecting finance into maintaining, improving or replacing facilities is the real need. Introduction of some of this social engineering will generate division. Management of real estate in such a policy/ideological environment will see many volunteers walk. If the State wants this pathway then remove Boards and bring in departmental public servants to progress it.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these enabling initiatives, or are there any other enabling initiatives you would like to suggest?: This are hardly enabling initiatives. They lack specifics. There is no new generations of volunteers. What tools and resources will be provided? You suggest there is an information deficiency - there is not. Your preoccupation with native title is misplaced. Is there a situation when 'red tape' should not be eliminated - reducing is playing at the sides.

Other feedback

19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.:

It is a philosophical/ideological document that says nothing substantive. On the ground managers are doing physical and practical things - mowing, cleaning, repairing, building, fencing, road building, providing public services like toilets, bubblers. Your document will progress none of this work. The Strategic Plan will not be a reference document and will help no one. It will be forgotten by the Government and ignored by the on ground managers because it is not a work related guide.

A more comprehensive idea of which part of Crown Lands is in charge of what area. Recent funding and works have been welcomed but there has been very little explanation of which area of CL is in charge of which project. Safety inspectors came and did a thorough inspection of the site and provided a document for improvements but there was no coded site map and no explanation for many of the required upgrades. A comprehensive list and a site tour with Land Managers so we could work through some of the issues would have been helpful. More communication about the roles and responsibilities for these items.

11. Which of the following options best indicates your current or past use or interest in Crown land in New South Wales?: I use Crown land for recreation, I care about Crown land management as a resident of New South Wales, Other

Other:

My other interest is I understand that a very significant proportion of the the state, 42%, is Crown Land, and that much of it has huge conservation significance that is currently not protected enough. I generally object to any proposals that will impact any further upon the natural and conservation values of Crown Land, beyond what is represented by the current status quo. Specifically as an illustration, there are camping/ caravan leases on Crown Land. Their existence supports an acceptable community use, but overall there is no justification for an increase in the number or spatial extent of such uses. Crown Land Management should aim to have a net positive impact on biodiversity and programs to enhance the reporting and protection of endangered flora and fauna. For example, a large swathe of crown land in south west Sydney between Glenfield south to Appin and beyond is koala habitat, and must only be used for bushland conservation purposes. Further all land that supports endangered ecological vegetation communities eg Cumberland Plain woodlands, should be conserved, and not used in any other way. Any lease or licence for an activity on Crown Land, should have a compulsory 'net beneficial clause' requiring the leaseholder to show how they have simultaneously improved environmental quality through action parallel to their usage. Eg if a licence is granted to an operator to conduct a wilderness walk through a wild site, all revenue collected show go directly to nature protection and remediation of any resulting impacts at that site, and additionally the operator should be involved in some local activity eg Bushcare, that makes a compensatory positive compensatory offset for any impacts or potential impacts of his/her activity. Crown Land uses should be very mindful to avoid any negative impacts on waterways or water quality. Riparian land therefore must remain wherever possible, as undisturbed in a natural state, in terms of vegetation cover.

12. What use/s of Crown land do you value?:

Open or green space, Community use, Biodiversity, Other

Other:

I would like to emphasise the need to recognise that Crown Land should not be regarded as a resource for profit taking and private commercial gain beyond what is a reasonable balance of uses. Eg Travelling Stock routes must be maintained as public land for stock movement and for the recognised biodiversity corridor value they have. Crown Land Managers should collect revenue and return all of that as expenditure to sustainably manage and rehabilitate that public land asset for the long term. Crown land must not be sold. In some cases, a Lease for a use should be granted, if the activity and public revenue it generates can create a net beneficial conservation gain. A good example, in south west Sydney, is there is huge damage being done to crown land, both illegal timber logging and track erosion and vegetation loss resulting from illegal 4WD and dirt biking. There is a failure to police or control these activities. If a licence was issued to manage just one local facility for recreational vehicle use, and fees collected, it would provide revenue and justification for the more punitive pursuit of illegal uses.

I think the positioning of the employment creation objective, as the first in the list, is extremely disturbing and an attempt to skew responses towards that end. I therefore am very cynical about this whole exercise. It would be disgraceful to in a sense privatise public lands, and this seems to be driving this consultation.

Public land ie. National Parks in regional areas have become almost impossible to access for the ordinary citizen, Bans on camping, dogs and campfires have excluded groups such as recreational users and the Grey Nomad population from enjoying the Australian outdoors.

| 19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.: | Just manage the public land for all Australians and visitors to our country. Far too much "lock it up and leave it" management in the past and also we cannot pass excessive amounts of land to the sole management of about 2% of our population. I believe that the unhealthy focus on passing excessive amounts of land to Native Title is just fostering racial divisions. For people to comply with regulations, they first have to understand and RESPECT those regulations. This is not happening in modern Australia. |

13. These are the best priorities for Crown land over the next 10 years.: Strongly disagree

14. Please rate each of the priorities from 'Very important' to 'Not important at all'.

Enable jobs growth, commercial opportunities and sustainable economic progress in regional and rural NSW.: Not at all important

Expand green space, sustainable quality of life and climate change resilience: Very important

Strengthen and support evolving community connections: Very important

Work with Aboriginal communities to realise the potential of their land rights: Very important

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these priorities, or are there any new priorities, you would like to suggest?:

Crown land was set aside for many reasons, a lot were for the protection of extremely sensitive environmental land, a lot of which has been given to the Aboriginal Land Councils. Sadly, the Aboriginal Land Councils see these sensitive lands as commercial opportunities but the lands are so environmentally sensitive the NSW Government should be paying these Land Councils to maintain and improve these lands. the business opportunity would be improved biodiversity, stable land under climate change and possibly tourism with hikes, walks and talks through these beautiful places. Instead we have Aboriginal Land Councils trying to turn profits by selling or developing lands that have been zoned environmental, so we have spot rezoning which is the poorest type of development. An example currently on the Central Coast is a 200 Manufactured Housing development moving through the NSW State Government planning process even though it is in the Greater Munmorah development zone which is supposed to be the high level overall plan for the entire area. the development encroaches on the proposed wildlife corridor which has not been settled, width, extent and position. This is an extremely flawed process. I would like to see Biodiversity added as a high priority.

- Explore co-management of land to generate mutual benefits: Very important
- Collaborate with Aboriginal groups in each place to improve outcomes: Very important

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these outcomes or would you like to suggest any other outcomes the department should address in the State Strategic Plan?:

Surely there should be developers with land to develop and not take any more Crown land, certainly not clear felling any more anywhere. Increased density rather than expansion further out onto peri urban land is much more sensible for development to accommodate all types of housing. Social housing as a percentage of all developments. Not everything should be seen as dollars and cents, it should be seen through the lens of social and environmental benefits that, in the long run, save the Government money.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these enabling initiatives, or are there any other enabling initiatives you would like to suggest?: Cutting red tape can be code for cutting corners on important environmental requirements and end up with poor outcomes and unintended consequences.

Other feedback

19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.: Keep environmentally sensitive lands under their appropriate environmental zones. Don't allow spot rezoning. The NSW Government did a total rezone for all councils across the State in 2012. They should not change these unless they are in agreement with the overall State Plan.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these priorities, or are there any new priorities, you would like to suggest?:

I believe that these priorities are all important but also that all priorities can be met by allowing Aboriginal Peoples to lead the way in all spaces including jobs growth, commercial opportunities, sustainable economic progress in regional and rural NSW - Aboriginal People can lead this. Aboriginal People can also lead - the expansion, sustainable quality of life and climate change resilience priority, we have the capacity to do this. We know how to strengthen and support evolving community connections, we are humble but we are strong and we have championed relationship building with NEW Australians for 250 years. Let us lead and the path will be embracing not diversity. Crown Lands need to understand that working in the true spirit of the ALRA to release potential for Aboriginal Communities includes working with Aboriginal Communities in all of the other priority areas.

With the current Covid situation. Crown land can be use to set up legal MTB trails. The quantity of people that started riding bike increased by 200% during the last 5 months. Local bike shops were working at their and making profits 3 times higher that this time last year. Mountain Bikes trails were full of people from every age...so definitely more places need to be constrared. There were mums,child's, teenagers , elderly people on their bikes as never before. Why not invest it in something that will benefit all NSW resident's physical, emotional and mental health . And getting communities to become less vulnerable to illnesses.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these enabling initiatives, or are there any other enabling initiatives you would like to suggest?:

Due to vague and incomprehensive information provided in the draft plan it is difficult to provide an informed opinion however there appears to a significant disconnect between desired outcomes and the enablers communicated within the draft plan. Perpetual crown leases are held under an exclusive use Torenns title which is slightly inferior to a freehold title. This title must be respected and no attempt to de-value the title or the rights of the leasee should be considered. Inorder to maximise investment, economic development, jobs and economic return from these land parcels the NSW government should examine ways to allow perpetual crown leases to be freeholded to the leasee. Thus removing risks to investment and providing surety to proponent. Some pertpetual lease holders were discriminated against when the encumbrance of a Forest dedication were placed over their lease hold land. This needs to be reviewed now so as to remove that encumbrance and allow the required investment to flow and the associated benefits be realised.

19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.:

In my opinion the draft plan fails to provide adequate information on which to undertake a comprehensive and meaningful consultation. The consultation process should be discontinued and revised immediately. The process of consultation and the contents of the draft plan need to be co-designed with stakeholders, particularly Aboriginal people and communities whom are rights holders of the Crown land estate. The immediate implementation of the beneficial rights established in the Aboriginal Land Rights act 1983 should be prioritised and respect provided to the act that pre-dates the development of this plan by 37 years.

I've been riding mountain bikes and using both sanctioned and I in Nonsanctioned trails for years and watched our community grow. It's gives the youth a creative and healthy outlet to use these lands and look after them by respecting the native fauna and flora as we all do. We have watched countless trails be destroyed by councils and large trail networks dismantled to simply give the land back to the aboriginal land council only to see padlocks on gates and the land barren and unused. This madness needs to stop. The mountain bike community is intelligent, respectful and acutely aware or how to maintain the bush land and ensure it's being used for the betterment of the community

19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.: You have created the draft plan and asked the questions that will support it. The plan should be far more transparent. Crown land should never be sold should only be used for recreation. If its a camping/caravan park then either local councils or NSW Govt should run it and all income goes back into the camp for improvements.

19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.:

Crown Land Submission This submission is from the Australian Climbing Association NSW Inc. The Australian Climbing Association NSW Inc ("ACANSW") represents the interests of rock climbers in NSW. ACANSW aims to work with land managers to obtain fair access for rock climbers; and to promote stewardship of the cliff environment and cultural awareness, so that climbing can remain sustainable on public and private lands. The rock climbing community relies on quality cliffs or boulders for its recreation and many of these areas occur on public land. The Hon Rob Stokes states in his introductory comment: "A key priority for our Government..... is to provide better access to quality, green, open public space for people right across NSW. " Our access organisation strongly supports this vision as the intent expressed mirrors our own objective of free and fair access for rock climbing. Rock climbing was once a relatively obscure recreation that received little mainstream recognition. In the last 20 years it's popularity has exploded, as recognised in the CSIROs report : The Future of Australian Sport: Megatrends shaping the sports sector over coming decades. In this report rock climbing features as a sport that has gone from "extreme to mainstream". Climbing is included in the Tokyo Olympics. The rapid rise in indoor climbing gyms' popularity is reflected in the increasing number of participants in an outdoor setting. Youth groups, PCYC, Scouts, Guides and schools often now include climbing in their sports calendar. All these factors have placed increased pressure on outdoor climbing locations. At the present time rock climbing is permitted on Crown Land providing it has not been prohibited under the Crown Land Management Regulation 2018 part 2 div 2(13). Therefore it is a lawful current use of Crown Land. Climbing, particularly bouldering, is not always well documented by participants. The activity is often low key, and land managers may not be aware that climbing is taking place. This can become an issue when the land is then set aside for other purposes, or it is considered that " the land is not being used" and it is converted from Crown land to freehold, for instance under the ARLA to LALC freehold, and climbing access is lost. Although climbing on freehold land is possible with permission, experience has shown that this can be difficult to obtain due to concerns about public liability. Even on public land concerns about liability seem to guide regulations around climbing access (NPW regulation 29, some council regulations). Therefore ACANSW advocates that areas suitable for climbing be kept under suitable land tenure so that recreational climbing opportunities are available to the public for the benefit of current and future climbers. Continued access to cliffs and boulders that are suitable for climbing is essential. These areas are relatively limited by rock characteristics, as not all rock provides a satisfactory medium. In addition to public recreation, expansion of regional tourism is promoted as a potential use of crown land. Rock climbing has the potential to contribute to tourism providing there is access to suitable high quality rock. This has been appreciated by Shoalhaven City Council who realise that there is significant climber visitation, especially in the “ low” tourist season. Several major rock climbing areas in the Shoalhaven region are on Crown Land. In an urban setting, the value of Crown Land to climbers can be seen with the repurposing of old quarries into climbing facilities and community spaces. Successful examples of this can be seen in Brisbane and Hobart. Several opportunities exist in NSW for similar facilities on Crown Land. We also support the use of crown land near to climbing areas to be used to provide basic camping facilities. The ability of climbers to congregate with family and friends before and after climbing, ie “ a place where people come together” is valuable to the climbing experience . Thus the availability of affordable, low impact camping near to climbing areas is of benefit to climbing communities. Conclusion: Rock climbing is a healthy and popular outdoor pursuit that occurs on Crown Land and needs to be taken into consideration when decisions are being made about areas that involve cliffs, boulders and escarpments. These include natural and man made rock faces. The ACANSW has many regional coalitions set up to assist in decisions regarding climbing areas across the state and would like to be consulted in all matters related to climbing.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these enabling initiatives, or are there any other enabling initiatives you would like to suggest?:

With regard to "engage and support a new generation of Crown Land managers". Crown Lands which are 'natural areas' (eg Nature Reserves) are important for conserving biodiversity. It is essential that the management of such lands NOT be placed in the hands of organisations which believe that maintenance monies should only be spent on areas that can 'turn a profit'. This is the situation at Red Rock where the land manager, Reflections Holiday Parks, accepted the management of 83ha of 'natural areas' as a condition on acquiring management of the caravan park. Whilst it is understood that the drought, fires and the pandemic have financially impacted the organisation, the spending on the Red Rock Reserves has been limited to repair of items of public safety/amenity (dangerous boardwalks, non-operational public toilets). The Red Rock Reserves contain some important remnant coastal ecosystems - from littoral rain forest to swamp heaths - and they need protection from both local residents and the ever-increasing tourist trade from both interstate and rapidly growing nearby townships. I submit that Reflections is not the right type of organisation to offer such protection. Even the under-funded National Parks would provide better care for this Reserve - they understand the importance of such reserves.

12. What use/s of Crown land do you value?: Aboriginal land rights, Biodiversity, Other

Other: "One of the strengths of the Crown land legislation is that it sustains land in public ownership, able to be used to meet the needs of each generation." Prioritising a single use as per the categories listed above may not be in keeping with this objective. Indigenous use and management principles for Crown land understood this objective and if remaining traditional owners were consulted on traditional value of remnant crown land parcels, the value to all members of the public would be met in future generations.

Do you believe that any changes should be made to these priorities, or are there any new priorities, you would like to suggest?:

Priority must be given to Protection for Crown Lands adjacent to World heritage nominated National Parks. Increasingly, crown lands with Council permission are being developed to facilitate commercial activity within infrastructure assets located within these adjacent nominated national heritage level National Parks. A good example is improving access via Gap Park tramway route into the Australian heritage nominated South Head National Park. Rather than acting as a buffer land parcel to the existing pressures on the remnant adjacent urban National Parkland, the crown land is being utilised to piece together the missing puzzle piece for private development opportunities within the Nationally nominated heritage site itself. One of the strengths of the Crown land legislation is that it sustains land in public ownership On P42 of the Draft is the first mention for Crown Land as conservation in keeping with the above legislation. "Crown land across NSW can be used for conservation of landscapes and species, in support of the government's biodiversity priorities." Adjacent to National Parks are parcels of Crown Land often under active industrial leases and open to activities for tourism and recreation. An example of this is the Blue Mountains World heritage area, encompassing the Wollemi National Park. The adjacent parcels of Crown land remain critical refuges and natural habitats as the only current intact remnant bushland parcels. Squeezed between the urban fringe of the growing North West regional metro development area slated for extensive subdivision and such areas as remain intact from the fire stress regrowth vegetation in the Parr State Conservation Area, through the Comleroy State Forest, protected by a successful backburn, across the pristine waters of the Colo River catchment to Morans Rock ringed by Blaxlands Ridge rd. These specific extents can be defined by Crown land reserves listed in the Hawkesbury LGA schedule, stretching from Colo Heights Reserve to Lower Portland Crown Reserve and on the Southern side of the river, Morans rock or Colo Park stretching through Turnbolls Arm and swamp to the reserve on the Southern side of the private land tenures off Blaxland Ridge Rd; Turnbolls' Crown Reserve. The Crown land reserves written into the Blue Mountains World Heritage Nomination, abutting the Wollemi National Park are described as follows; "The integrity of protected areas in the Greater Blue Mountains can be threatened by developments in areas adjacent to reserves. " The priority for Crown lands adjacent to World and Nationally nominated heritage sites should be elevated to long term outcomes and timelines only. Five of the Outcomes and timelines listed in Figure 8. p65 as follows; would be potentially detrimental to these World and national heritage listed fragile sites and ecosystems, accurately highlighted as short term; 'Leverage the economic benefits of national parks-short term' 'Conduct a portfolio review in collaboration with the tourism industry - short term' 'Assist with infrastructure project approvals - short term' 'Increase security of tenure for leaseholders to promote investment- short term' 'Ensure we realise and reinvest a fair return for commercial activities upon Crown land' - Short Term. Prioritise Optimise & lead 2030 long term goals for any and all crown land parcels adjacent to World or Nationally nominated heritage listed sites.

Many of these sites are currently 'showground emergency habitats' for fauna affected by the Gaspers' Mountain Bushfires.

| 19. Please provide any other comments about the draft State Strategic Plan for Crown land.: | Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the State Strategic Plan for Crown land. I believe all the outcomes that you are attempting to achieve have merit. On reading this document however, not enough emphasis has been placed on environmental issues. There is a, perhaps once in a lifetime, opportunity here to make real improvements in environmental and biodiversity outcomes for NSW. |
